"Bosom
Children

There was Bob Marley, Lucky Dube, Culture and the rest. They all had one thing in common aside the songs they produced, DREADLOCAKS.

I had the chance to be with students with dreadlocks in 2009 during my second year of teaching in a rural community.

They are 4 in number, 2 boys and 2 girls. I thought they were from Jamaica but no.

These children with dreadlocks are not rastas but "Bosom ba" which means children from the "gods".

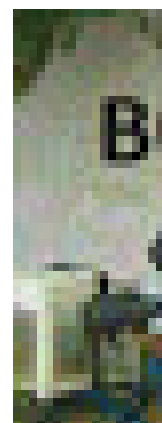

They are not allowed to cut off their hair for some reasons as well as their finger nails.

These were the directives given to the parents who have married for a long time without children and had to consult and fetish priest or small gods for assistance.

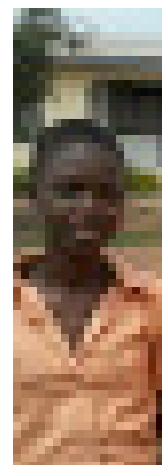

They are made to perform certain rituals that resulted in a pregnancy.

However, these kids are committed to these gods for a number of years and then after the post-rituals activities (cutting the hair for 3 times and performing other rituals), the children can now have a normal life, i.e. shaving the hair at will and the finger nails.

One thing i can attest to is that, these kids are very very very clever and intelligent. In their various classes they are the best when it comes to everything but not really good at outdoor activities. May be I am yet to realize it.
